OTHER STRONG POINTS OF THE CANTAL

As a constantly evolving territory, Cantal has become the home of several companies from the pharmaceutical industry, such as Biose Industrie, Greencell, Inerscience, Lallemand.

The sector now employs almost 500 people and can rely on higher education training, particularly with the proximity of the University of Clermont-Auvergne.

Halfway between biology and agri-food, LIP SAS (Interprofessional Production Laboratory) in Aurillac develops ripening and flavouring ferments for cheese and meat curing processes while adapting to the specific needs of industrials.

With regards to the furniture and wood sector, Cantal is attractive because of its forest reserves and because of the activities of players in primary and secondary processing.

The competitive hubs and clusters provide structure for a cooperation between businesses and public research in various sectors, especially:

- Polymeris in the rubber, plastics and composites sector, Vegepolys Valley,
- Innov'Alliance, Cluster Bio for the agri-food industry.
